EXPLANATORY NOTE

Article XIII, Section 11 of the Constitution provides the state policy of adopting an integrated and comprehensive approach to health development which shall endeavor to make essential goods, health and other social services available to all the people at affordable cost.

However, our lack of focus on the health sector is evident as the total health budget only accounted for 2.38 percent of the national budget in 2009. The Philippine National Health Accounts (PNHA) 2005 also shows that the total health expenditure of the country reached P180.8 billion in 2005, growing at a slower rate of 9.4% compared to 11.9% in 2004. The share of health expenditure to Gross Domestic Product was lower at 3.3% in 2005 and still below the 5% standard set by the World Health Organization (WHO) for developing countries.

The share of government on health expenditure declined to 29% which is below the target of 40% based on the Health Sector Reform Agenda (HSRA). Also, the government's target of less dependence on out-of-pocket payments and providing more social health insurance is still far from being realized as the share of out-of-pocket payments even increased to 49% while the share of social insurance payments increased only slightly to 11% in 2005. Based on the HSRA, the target for out-of-pocket is 20% while the target for social insurance is 30%.

More than a decade has elapsed since the enactment of Republic Act No. 7875, otherwise known as the "National Health Insurance Act of 1995," mandating that affordable health care coverage be made available to all citizens. The country is far from the target. The bill seeks to address this by ensuring that all benefits under Republic Act No. 7875 are made available to every Filipino citizen. In view of the foregoing, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
