EXPLANATORY NOTE

The archipelagic nature of the Philippines makes sea travel a major facet of domestic trade and commerce, and travel. The Philippine record of domestic maritime services has recently been marred by mishaps and sea tragedies that took a heavy toll of both life, limb and property. On hindsight, these tragedies could have been avoided by appropriate safeguards that should have been institutionalized by the appropriate laws.

Among the most obvious causes of the more recent tragic incidents overloading and overcrowding of ships beyond their authorized load capacities; the sea unworthiness of vessels plying the domestic inter-island routes; and the incompetence and dereliction among crew members.

This bill seeks to strengthen the existing provisions of law in order to prevent recurrences of these sea tragedies. Most of the existing regulations on maritime safety are in the form of Memoranda issued by the Maritime Industry Authority (MARINA) which lack the necessary deterrents against violations of the regulations. This bill specifies safety measures that should be observed, and safety equipment that must be required of every vessel, and provides for the adequate penalties to strengthen the enforcement of the law.

This bill also seeks to improve the coordination between the MARINA and the Coast Guard, by delineating their respective responsibilities in the enforcement of the law.

To date, no shipowner, officer or government personnel has been taken to account for the recent tragedies that claimed numerous lives, and inflicted countless injuries. The poor and underprivileged who can afford only the services and facilities available from the local maritime fleet have a right to better safeguards, better laws and regulations that will ensure their safety.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate approval of this bill is earnestly requested.

SERGIO OSMEÑA III
