EXPLANATORY NOTE

Article 180 of the Revised Penal Code (Act No. 3815, as amended) provides for the penalty against any person who shall give false testimony against the defendant in any criminal case. It may be noted that the present penalty for false testimony against the defendant in criminal case depends upon the sentence imposed on the person against the false testimony was given. For instance, if a witness testifies falsely against the accused charged with homicide, and such accused is convicted and sentenced to reclusion temporal and the witness was later on found to be lying and was in turn prosecuted and convicted, the penalty imposable to such "false" or lying witness is only prision mayor.

This is grossly unfair to the accused falsely convicted as a result of a witness' false testimony.

The author submits that such witness should suffer also the same penalty suffered or imposed upon the defendant provided that if the defendant has been sentenced to death, the penalty of reclusion perpetua shall be imposed upon such lying witness. If the defendant is acquitted, he should suffer the penalty imposable upon the defendant if the latter is convicted. This bill seeks to amend article 180 of the Revised Penal Code (Act No. 3815, as amended) by specifically providing for aforementioned increase in penalty.

In the light of the foregoing considerations, passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
