EXPLANATORY NOTE

In light of the policy of the State to maintain and establish an education system relevant to the needs of the people, this bill establishes a printing office under the direction of the Department of Education, which shall produce, print, and distribute original materials for public schools. Furthermore, it shall prioritize the production of materials for grade schools.

Through this bill, the government will have a uniform system of producing materials which is relevant and according to the needs of our schools, while at the same time, saving our government resources. It shall also spare our public schools from using textbooks and other materials which are unnecessary and riddled with errors since the development of materials should be consulted with school officials, teachers, and parents.
