EXPLANATORY NOTE

It is the vision of the Magna Carta for Public School Teachers to provide programs for the promotion and improvement of the social well being and economic status of public school teachers, including their living and working conditions, terms of employment and career prospects. However, it seems that lethargy bordering on official neglect has beset the implementation of said statute thus setting at naught whatever lofty aims the legislature has envisioned in ordaining said Magna Carta.

Hence, many years after the enactment of the Magna Carta for Public School Teachers, with most of its provisions still unenforced, it behooved upon the legislature to take steps to ensure that good laws are not only passed but are that they are carried out to the letter as well.

Primarily, therefore, this proposed measure seeks the full implementation of the Magna Carta for Public School Teachers. In unequivocal terms, it mandates that the Department of Education (DepEd) carry into effect the provisions of Republic Act No. 4670 under pain of strict enforcement of the sanctions upon responsible officials in case of neglect or omission to perform said duty. Moreover, the Secretary of the Department of Education is further directed to submit to the President and the Congress a periodic report detailing compliance with the aforesaid mandate. Finally, in appropriate cases, government agencies are enjoined to extend utmost support and cooperation to the Department.

Even on the assumption that public school teachers shall henceforth be enjoying the effects of the beneficent provisions of the Magna Carta, this bill goes a step further by providing additional benefits and privileges in the form of more liberal study leaves, educational grants to children of teachers, and more comprehensive special hardship allowances.

It is hoped that these additional benefits and privileges will make certain that public school teachers will receive their due and be placed on a plane befitting their roles as educators of our youth.

In view thereof, the early approval of this bill is being earnestly sought.
