SEC. 2. Declaration of Policies. – The Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) and Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome (AIDS) are public health concerns that have wide-ranging social, political, and economic repercussions. Responding to the HIV and AIDS epidemic is therefore imbued with public interest and shall be anchored on the principles of human rights upholding human dignity. Accordingly, the State shall:

a) Establish policies and programs to prevent the spread of HIV and deliver treatment, care, and support services to Filipinos living with HIV in accordance with evidence-based strategies and approaches that follow the principles of human rights, gender-responsiveness, and meaningful participation of communities affected by the epidemic;

b) Adopt a multi-sectoral approach in responding to the HIV epidemic by ensuring that local communities, civil society organizations (CSOs), and persons living with HIV are at the center of the process;

d) Positively address and seek to eradicate conditions that aggravate the spread of HIV infection, which include poverty, gender inequality, marginalization, and ignorance.

Respect for, protection of, and promotion of human rights are the cornerstones of an effective response to the HIV epidemic. Hence, HIV and AIDS education and information dissemination should form part of the right to health.

Towards this end, the State shall ensure the delivery of non-discriminatory HIV and AIDS services by government and private HIV and AIDS service providers and develop redress mechanisms for persons living with HIV to ensure that their civil, political, economic, and social rights are protected.
