Senate Bill No. 1490

Introduced by Sen. Win Gatchalian

AN ACT ENHANCING THE GOVERNANCE STRUCTURE OF THE ENERGY REGULATORY COMMISSION

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The enactment of Republic Act 9136 carried with it the unbundling of the power sector. Generation, transmission, distribution, and supply were privatized. Nevertheless, distribution and transmission were declared public utilities. Their regulation, which includes performance, recoverable costs, and allowable margins, fell upon the Energy Regulatory Commission (ERC).

ERC, as the regulator, has a definitive role in safeguarding the interests of the public.<sup>1</sup> As such, its governance structure should foster independence, transparency, and accountability. An evaluation of ERC's governance structure using best practice principles for regulatory policy and even the country's Code of Corporate Governance for Publicly Listed Companies shows areas for improvement. An example is the separation of the Chairperson and Chief Executive Officer functions, which is necessary to "foster an appropriate balance of power, increased accountability, and better capacity for independent decision-making."<sup>2</sup>

It is in this light that this measure is proposed. This bill aims to enhance the existing governance structure of the ERC by providing (1) additional qualifications and requirements for ERC Commissioners to ensure board diversity; (2) prohibitions and disqualifications for ERC Commissioners and their relatives to prevent conflicts of interest; (3) the separation of the Chairperson and CEO functions to assure a balance of power; (4) defined duties and responsibilities of the Chairperson, the Commission, and the Executive Director to increase invididual and board accountability; (5) open meetings during deliberations of the Commission to guarantee public transparency; (6) access to information to enhance knowledge and education on regulatory matters affecting public welfare; and (7) liabilities for violation of, among others, open meeting and access to information provisions.

OECD (2012) recommends that countries "develop a consistent policy covering the role and functions of regulatory agencies in order to provide greater confidence that regulatory decisions are made on an objective, impartial, and consistent basis, without conflict of interest, bias or improper influence."<sup>3</sup> It is the hope of the author that these objectives be fulfilled with the enactment of this bill into law. Thus, the immediate passage of this measure is sought.
