SENATE
 S. No. 1750

RECEIVED BY: _____ G

Introduced by Senator Magsaysay, Jr.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Existence of strong checks and balances in government is the essence to preserve democracy. The checks and balances must not be limited only in branches of government but also must be developed in the national security agencies and the Armed Services as protector of the people and State. The State therefore must promote the multiple sourcing of regular officers of the AFP from Filipino citizens of diverse cultures and institutions. Thus, there shall be established in the Philippine Air Force an educational institution to be known as the Philippine Air Force Academy (PAFA) hereinafter referred to as the Academy for instruction and preparation for military service of the Philippine Air Force Cadets, to be known as Aviation Cadets. This instruction is a 2-year program in the Academy based on entry of students from the General College Education (GCE) requirements as established by the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) leading to the award of a four-year baccalaureate degree; major courses for respective degrees shall be taught in the Academy together with the officer and aviation fields training. Graduates shall be awarded baccalaureate degrees and commissioned as regular officers of AFP.

The GCE requirements is basic to all 4-year baccalaureate degrees as determined by CHED. A candidate who have completed the GCE brings with him into the Academy the wealth of experience necessary to broaden his perspectives in academics as well as his outlook among all cultures. The young men and women who are bright and come from the minority groups can earn their General College Education units required for entry into the Academy through scholarships existing in any government recognized colleges and universities, NGO's, GSIS and SSS. Their experiences and academic disciplines in social sciences obtained from the colleges and universities will hasten their maturity and will give them wider and better perspectives on what kind of a career they really would like to pursue and how to serve country and people. Furthermore, with the military training and discipline added to their highly technical expertise in aviation and related fields obtained and instilled in the Academy, performance of their mission and exercise of leadership will be more balanced and matured.

The present assets of the Philippine Air Force Flying School (PAFFS), the PAF Officers Candidate School (OCS) and the PAF Technical School such as barracks, dormitories, office buildings, classrooms, technical equipment and other facilities necessary for training are already existing at the Air Education and Training Command (AETC), Fernando Air Base Lipa, City. These assets can be transferred to the Academy. The present budget of the PAF is enough to start, sustain and operate the Academy. If ever there will be expenses to be incurred it will just be for salaries and accommodation of civilian professors and civilian employees. Majority of the instructors will be officers in the PAF. Future expansions and upgrading of the Academy will be budgeted by Congress. Also having a 2-year program in the Academy will be cheaper than a 4-year program. The Academy experiences of the Aviation Cadets plus the military discipline instilled in them will make them good leaders in the AFP and the country as well. From these graduates will be pilots and other aviation fields officers who will man the modernized Philippine Air Force. And even after retirement or separation from the military service the degrees earned in the Academy, which are accredited by CHED, will be usable throughout life.

Early cognizance of the bill is earnestly sought.
