S. B. No. 1893

EXPLANATORY NOTE

As enshrined in the Constitution, Article II, Section 14, "The State recognizes the role of women in nation-building, and shall ensure the fundamental equality before the law of women and men." It likewise declares, "The State shall... promote... equality of employment opportunities for all." These State policies are elaborated in laws which give women equal legal status with men.

Notwithstanding the enactment of such laws, much has to be done to promote women's welfare and status. A study conducted by the Bureau of Women and Young Workers and the National Statistics Office revealed that women employees generally earn less than their male counterparts; women are predominant in low-skilled jobs; fewer women advance to the top of the organizational hierarchy. Thus, one can see the disparities engendered by sexual discrimination. It is indeed a reality that calls for a positive and concerted action.

This proposed bill expands the scope of acts discrimination by an employer against women as enumerated under Art. 135 of the Labor Code, as amended. The amendment seeks to encourage employers to recruit and hire more women in the workplace thereby eliminating the big stumbling block to women's employability, considering that there are more equally or even more talented, skilled and qualified women in the country today.

Early passage of this bill is then earnestly urged.
