S.B. No. 1386

Introduced by Senator Loren Legarda

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to expand the coverage of assistance and protection to rape victims to include survivors of other gender-based violence and crimes against children, amending for the purpose certain sections of Republic Act No. 8505, also known as the "Rape Victim Assistance Protection Act of 1998".

Violence against women and children is one of the pervasive forms of human rights abuses in our society today. It encompasses but is not limited to battering, sexual abuse and harassment, trafficking in women, prostitution and exploitation. Women victims are often forced to endure ill-effects violence due to the lack of services to meet their peculiar needs. This problem is very prominent among victims, or survivors, of domestic violence who feel the need to leave their homes but is restrained from doing so by the absence or lack of financial resources, child care support and shelter. Many actually think that they do not have much choice in the situation but to suffer in silence and solitude, resulting in serious physical and psychological consequences.

These survivors need a network of assistance which can intervene quickly and effectively. Shelter, employment, childcare support, medical and legal assistance and psychological counseling are the common immediate needs of women and children. Aside from center-based programs and services, the communities, non-government organizations and government agencies with potential resources for responding to his issue need to work cooperatively and efficiently in order to provide effective assistance to the women and children crisis survivors. This requires adequate training on the part of the individuals who deal directly with them.

R.A. No. 8505 partly addresses this problem through the provision of assistance and protection to rape victims through the establishment of rape crisis centers. Through this bill, support services will be extended to other survivors of violence such as trafficked, prostituted, physically abused, exploited women and children.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is sought.
