 REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES)
 First Regular Session

SENATE
 S.B. No. 2101

EXPLANATORY NOTE

During World War II, hundreds of Filipino women were made victims of military sexual coercion, known to the world as the 'comfort women', by the Japanese Imperial Forces. The 'comfort women' system of forced military prostitution included gang rape, forced abortions, humiliation and sexual violence resulting in mutilation, death or eventual suicide. Many historians conclude that Japan compelled up to 200,000 Chinese, Korean and Filipino women to become sex slaves.

At present, elementary, secondary and college history books provide very limited information, if at all, about the offenses and human rights violation committed by the Japanese Imperial Forces upon Filipino women. The Filipino comfort women, the unsung victims of gross human rights violation, should be given proper recognition for the ordeal they underwent and for the courage they have manifested in continuously fighting for their rights amid strong resistance by the Japanese government to formally apologize and provide them legal compensation.

It is incumbent upon our educational institutions to drive awareness among our people about the heroism of the Filipino comfort women. The Department of Education shall therefore conduct a complete, objective and historical documentation of the facts and events about Filipino victims of sexual coercion during World War II.

Every Filipino needs to be educated about the lives and heroism of the Filipino comfort women to better understand their concerns and support them in their campaign for justice and dignity. This bill seeks to give due recognition to the Filipino comfort women by including such topic in Philippine history books.

In view of the foregoing, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
