SENATE
 S NO. 2227

RECEIVED BY:

Introduced by Senator Antonio "Sonny" F. Trillanes IV

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Republic Act No. 8042 embodies the government's policy regarding overseas employment and provides for a higher standard of protection and promotion of the welfare of millions of overseas Filipino workers and their families. Nearly eight years since the implementation of the Act, it has become apparent that the Government should now re-assess certain provisions of the law.

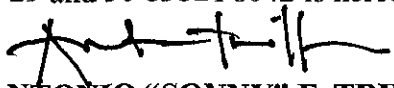

Sections 29 and 30 of the existing law provide for a five-year comprehensive deregulation plan and require the Department of Labor and Employment to phase out the regulatory functions of the POEA within the same period. This five-year period for the deregulation of the agency was premised on the assumption that the country would have attained the status of a newly-industrialized country by year 2000. To date, however, such "NIC-hood" status remains to be realized.

The phase-out of POEA's regulatory functions as indicated under present law would be a wanton disregard of the avowed policy of the state and the noble mandate of the POEA to afford full protection to labor, local and overseas. It should be stressed that the bottomline of regulation is the promotion of the welfare of our OFWs. An untimely phase-out of the regulatory functions of the POEA will constitute a virtual abandonment of our OFWs contrary to the overall intention of the Migrant Workers Act.

We must acknowledge and recognize that overseas employment has consistently increased as local employment opportunities continue to remain bleak. As of November 2004 alone, there were 791,180 OFWs deployed, 73% of which are women. While there is now a growing demand for professional women workers in the field of health care, majority of the women workers belong to the vulnerable group, particularly the service workers consisting of domestic helpers and entertainers or performing artists. The feminization of the OFW sector and the upsurge of vulnerable skills overseas require continued government intervention to promote their welfare.

The intention of the Migrant Workers Act on the progressive policy of deregulation whereby the migration of workers becomes strictly a matter between the worker and his foreign employer must be subsumed under the state policy that the existence of the overseas employment program rests solely on the assurance that the dignity and fundamental human rights and freedom of our overseas Filipino workers (OFWs) shall not at any time be compromised or violated. While recognizing the significant contribution of Filipino migrant workers to the national economy through their foreign exchange remittances, the State shall continue to promote, sustain and protect our OFWs with all the resources at its command.

It is in this light, therefore, that the repeal of Sections 29 and 30 of RA 8042 is hereby proposed.
