Senate Bill No. 776

INTRODUCED BY SEN. JINGGOY EJERCITO ESTRADA

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The right to the privacy of communication and correspondence is enshrined in the Constitution in Section 3 of Article III, which reads as follows: Section 3. (1) The privacy of communication and correspondence shall be inviolable except upon lawful order of the court, or when public safety or order requires otherwise, as prescribed by law. (2) Any evidence obtained in violation of this or the preceding section shall be inadmissible for any purpose in any proceeding.

To this end, Republic Act No. 4200 entitled "Act to Prohibit and Penalize Wire Tapping and Other Related Violations of the Privacy of Communication, and for other Purposes" remains as the primary implementing law. It penalizes, among other acts, the unauthorized tapping of any wire or cable, "or by using any other device or arrangement, to secretly overhear, intercept, or record such communication or spoken word x x x."

While the law is still an effective tool in enforcing the constitutional proscription, recent events show that we need new measures to protect this sacred right. Merely increasing the penalty for violations seems to be not enough. New methods must be sought and employed.

The principal purpose of this bill is to regulate the ownership, possession, sale, use and importation of wiretapping devices and violations thereon shall be meted with corresponding penalty. The rationale is that such devices, while not absolutely prohibited, should be owned, possessed, sold, imported or used by those who are deemed qualified by the law. Thus, another layer of protection is afforded because then, before a person could get a court order to use a wiretapping device, he must first be qualified to own or use the same.

With the foregoing considerations, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
