EXPLANATORY NOTE

There is no integrated medical professional organization in the Philippines. There exists the Philippine Medical Association, Inc. (PMA), which is an organization of doctors licensed to practice medicine in the Philippines.

The PMA is one of the most prestigious organizations in the Philippines, the umbrella organization of the medical profession of the country. It is duly registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as a non-stock, non-profit organization and is the mother association of all medical organizations in the Philippines. It was founded September 15, 1903, at a time when the country was under American rule. The Philippine Medical Association brings together the entire medical profession under one roof to serve as an authoritative source of information on health, disease and medical practice. It is responsible for the Training of Specialists through its Specialty Societies. It is responsible for the sustained excellent quality healthcare delivery through its continuing medical education, formulation of clinical practices, guidelines, directly or through the specialty societies. It polices its ranks through the rigid Code of Ethics of the medical profession.

The PMA has eight specialty divisions such as Pathology, Radiology, Anesthesiology, Surgery, Physicians, Pediatrics, Obstetrics and Gynecology and Family Medicine. All of these specialty divisions have several sub-specialty societies. There are 28,000 physicians who are members of the PMA. Membership in the Philippine Medical Association is coursed through the Component Society. There are presently 128 Component Societies, which is the basic unit of the Association, equitably distributed in all regions of the country. All provinces and cities in the Philippines have component societies, more popularly known as medical societies. A group of these medical societies form a region or regional council. The Board of Governors exercise control and supervision over the regional councils and the component societies. The Board of Governors have the power to realign regions and component societies and further the power to create new component society or delist existing one.

Aside from its by-laws, duly registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, the PMA has codes governing its affairs and the conduct of its members. Among its codes are the Administrative Code, the Code on Continuing Medical Education, Code of Ethics, the Election Code and Mutual Aid Code and Guidelines on Protocol and Procedures and Guidelines on Affiliate Societies.

For the benefit of its members, the PMA and its specialty societies conduct periodically seminars, workshops and conventions educating its members on the latest medical technology and medicine. Its specialty societies determine who the specialists in several fields of medicine are.

There is no other medical organization that possesses the breadth, composition, membership and nationwide coverage of the PMA. In almost all matters affecting health or the medical profession, the government seeks the advice of the PMA. This bill will put the PMA as a partner of the Government in the improvement of the health delivery system to include the alleviation of the Exodus of Doctors to foreign lands.

Further, this bill will rid the medical profession of so called misfits found to be negligent in their practice. The negligent acts of doctors led to a spate of incidents wherein patients either died, were maimed, scarred or suffered physical injuries.

Under present laws, a patient has three options to remedy or punish such negligent acts, one is the filing of a criminal action under the Revised Penal Code under Article 365 (reckless imprudence), the second is the filing of a civil case for the recovery of damages and the third is the filing of a case before the Professional Regulations Commission for the revocation of the license of the doctor.

Patients might find the current options not suitable for his need because of:

- a. court or administrative actions are time consuming as the courts and the PRC are clogged with other cases
- b. filing of such actions are financially burdensome on the patient.
- c. court or administrative actions are mired in technicalities especially those concerning evidence, the presentation and weighing of which must adhere to the strict technical rules of procedure and evidence

This bill will provide a patient with a fourth option, that of filing a case with an integrated professional medical organization. If the bill is passed, the medical profession, just like the legal profession, will be integrated into one accredited organization. No doctor can practice his profession unless he becomes a member of such integrated professional organization. An aggrieved patient may now seek for the revocation of membership of the doctor from the integrated professional medical organization. The threat of revocation will carry a lot of weight since the livelihood of the doctor depends on his continued membership in the Organization.

This bill seeks to accredit the Philippine Medical Association as the integrated professional medical organization and all physicians wanting to practice medicine will be required to become members of the PMA. If the bill is passed into a law, we will be creating a professional medical organization already in place without the government spending a single centavo that can serve as an extension of the government in regulating the medical profession, maintaining the high ad, ethical conduct of the medical professionals and help in the continued delivery of quality health care.

Approval of this bill is earnestly recommended,
