

FIFTEENTH CONGRESS OF THE)
REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES)
First Regular Session)

SENATE

S. No. 2166

Introduced by Senator FRANCIS G. ESCUDERO

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Constitutional mandate that taxation be just, fair, equitable, and reasonable cannot be more profound than when taken in context of today's looming economic reality. Faced with the current situation of the economy, any tax reform effort and revenue scheme should not only be judged according to its fiscal adequacy, equity, and administrative feasibility, but more importantly its impact on poverty, income distribution, and economic growth.

Recent amendments to the National Internal Revenue Code as amended, are proof positive that the legislature has, in fact, taken this stance. Both houses of congress are pushing for legislative measures that will provide relief to the taxpayers, recognizing that taxation is not solely about raising revenues, but is also to accomplish some desirable non-revenue or social objectives.

This bill proposes that documents evidencing the receipt of personal property as security for the payment of certain sum of money, i.e. a contract of pledge, where the loaned amount does not exceed ten thousand pesos (PhP 10,000.00) be exempt from payment of the documentary stamp tax (DST).

Passage of this bill is justified by the reality that the transactions of this value ordinarily and regularly occur among those belonging to the marginalized sectors of our society. Finding themselves in dire financial situation, they resort to pledging their personal properties in order to borrow money from individuals and/or lending institutions. Because the Tax Code is indifferent on whose liability the payment of DST falls, it is often absorbed by the one making the pledge as a part of the cost of the loan transaction. This is ironic because while the pledge is the one pressed for cash, he still has to cut a share of the proceeds of the loan to pay for the DST.

In this context, the urgent approval of this bill is earnestly recommended.
