EXPLANATORY NOTE

We often heard that teaching is not just a profession but a vocation. It entails a lot of dedication and perseverance for one to endure and survive in this kind of endeavor. Financial gain is not the primary consideration but the love and passion to share the knowledge one learned and acquired through best education and work experience.

Teachers, professors, instructors, educators or any other names they are called for are aware that they have a great responsibility of molding the youth not only of becoming responsible individuals but also an advocate of change and progress in society. Thus, they play a vital role in preparing the youth in nation-building.

The State recognizes the importance of this role, and institutes a policy that establishes, maintains, and supports a complete, adequate, and integrated system of education relevant to the needs of the people and society.

It is in this regard that we should not deprive our students to be taught by competent and highly qualified educators. In the same vein, we should not divest from the local chief executives who have expertise in certain fields and have shown exemplary achievements, the opportunity to teach. We should not punish these local chief executives by not allowing them to teach at the expense of our youth's education for the sole reason that they are elected as chief local executives.

Hence, passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
