EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to guarantee students their right to quality education, freedom, welfare services, among others and to protect the same from discrimination, in accordance with the rights and freedoms accorded by the Constitution and other international human rights agreements.

The 1987 Constitution gives due recognition to the role of the youth in nation-building (sec. 13, Article II) and provides that the State shall give priority to education, among others, to foster patriotism and nationalism, accelerate social progress, and promote total human liberation and development (sec. 17, Article II).

Likewise, international agreements such as the International Convention on Civil and Political Rights, International Convention on Economic and Social Rights, the Universal Declaration on Human Rights, International Convention on the Rights of the Child, Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women, obligate the country to protect and promote the rights and welfare of Filipino students.

Recognizing that education is a right and as such it can only be exercised and enjoyed fully in a climate where the rights and welfare of students and young Filipinos are promoted and protected, this proposed measure enumerates the following rights and freedoms of the students:

- a. Right against discrimination;
- b. Right to competent instruction and relevant quality education;
- c. Right to organize;
- d. Right to establish a student council/government;
- e. Right to publish a student newspaper;
- f. Right to adequate welfare services;
- g. Right to be represented in the highest policy-making body of the school;
- h. Right to access to information;
- i. Right to freedom of expression;
- j. Right to academic freedom;
- k. Right to due process;
- l. Right against illegal searches and seizures; and
- m. Right to privacy.

The Department of Education, the Commission on Higher Education, and the Technical Education and Skills Development Authority are bestowed with necessary powers to investigate and impose administrative sanctions on schools that violate the rights stipulated in the bill.

Students whose rights under this bill were violated may file civil case/s against the offender. Furthermore, refusal of public officials to act on complaints constitutes gross negligence and shall be punished appropriately, in accordance with civil service laws, rules and regulations.

Students are important components in society, not only because of their potential role as leaders of the country, but because of their role as catalysts. They have taken and are continuously taking an active participation in the pursuit of social equality, democracy and justice. We should therefore ensure that their rights and welfare are promoted and guaranteed.

In view of the foregoing, the passage of this significant piece of legislation is earnestly sought.
