EXPLANATORY NOTE

The PCSO has recently been mired in controversies over the alleged misuse of its Charity Fund. Billions of pesos are held as discretionary funds in the PCSO and disbursed by its board without specific standards on its use and without clear accountability provided in the PCSO charter.

For as long as we leave the disbursement of the Charity Funds in the hands of the PCSO board, allegations of abuse in its utilization will continue to be a thorny problem for the institution.

The public is left in the dark as to the magnitude and allocation of the PCSO Charity Fund. There is no transparency in the use of the fund because it does not go through the usual budget scrutiny as it is considered an off-budget item and, therefore, not included in the congressional public hearings on the General Appropriations Bill.

The PCSO, at present, undertakes medical and other social welfare projects which are better implemented by mandated government agencies that have more capability to undertake social programs and projects. Hence, the PCSO has to tap the services of Non Government Organizations (NGOs), the Church and other program partners as conduits of funds for charity projects to the people.

This bill intends to amend the charter of the PCSO. The Charity Fund which constitutes 30 % of the net receipts of the PCSO, under the bill seventy percent (70%) of that amount shall be used for the National Health Insurance Program administered by the PhilHealth. This is intended to hasten the achievement of universal health care coverage.

The equivalent amount shall be included in the General Appropriations Act (GAA) as a Special Purpose Fund for the counterpart shares of the national and local government in the National Health Insurance Program under the PhilHealth. Thus, "What you see is what you get" as reflected in the GAA and no more "pork barrel" for the PCSO board.

Hence, instead of the PCSO funneling the funds to its various government hospital beneficiaries, PCSO's Charity Fund would now be directly infused to PhilHealth that will allow indigents to seek treatment in government and private hospitals as well.

Indigents will no longer suffer having to join the long queues of indigent patients in the PCSO for financial assistance and then again line up in the government hospitals for the medical services. The poor can go directly to any hospital accredited by the PhilHealth and avail of needed hospital services.

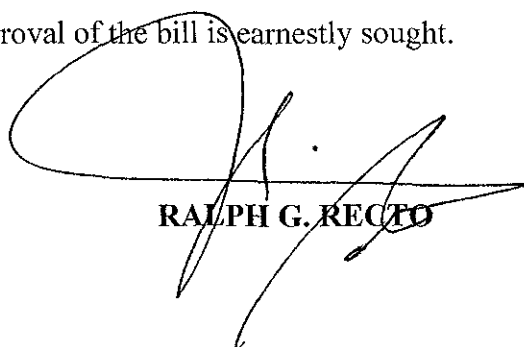

The provision of funds for PhilHealth will mean health insurance coverage for the poorest of the poor and will benefit those who are the usual players of the PCSO's Lotto and Sweepstakes.

The Aquino Health Agenda seeks to attain Universal Health Care by giving all Filipinos especially the poor and marginalized access to needed health care services without having to use personal money for these services. The target is to enroll all Filipinos and to enhance the benefit package of the PhilHealth.

With PCSO funds used to finance the National Health Insurance Program, there will be easing of pressure to raise new taxes to cover increasing requirements of the program. And, instead of PhilHealth members having to pay increased contributions to pay for enhanced benefits, the PhilHealth with additional funding from PCSO will now finance the additional cost of improved health services.

The full implementation of universal coverage will increase health expenditures of the PhilHealth and will reduce Out-of-Pocket expenditures which have dire implications to the people particularly the poor. This will result in freeing scarce household funds that can now be used for other basic expenses like education and food. The availability of insurance can also shield the people from distress having to face unexpected hospital expenses.

In view of the foregoing, the approval of the bill is earnestly sought.
