EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Civil Code, Article 1991, provides:

Article 1991. The depositor's heir who in good faith may have sold the thing which he did not know was deposited, shall only be bound to return the price he may have received or to assign his right of action against the buyer in case the price has not been paid by him.

The law incorrectly uses the term "depositor." It was intended to apply in this instance the depositary who dies and the thing deposited is left with his heir who sells it in good faith. It limits the heir's liability to the depositor.

To give Article 1991 its desired effect, "depositor's" must be replaced with "depositary's."*
