S. No. 613

RECEIVED BY:

Introduced by Senator Antonio "Sonny" F. Trillanes IV

AN ACT

GRANTING THE SUPREME COURT THE POWER TO REASSIGN TRIAL COURT JUDGES TO OTHER BRANCHES OF THE SAME LEVEL, THEREBY AMENDING SECTIONS 17, 28, 30 AND 31 OF BATAS PAMBANSA BLG. 129, OTHERWISE KNOWN AS "THE JUDICIARY REORGANIZATION ACT OF 1980"

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Article VIII Section 6 of the 1987 Constitution expressly provides that "[T]he Supreme Court shall have administrative supervision over all courts and the personnel thereof". However, current practice under the present law – Batas Pambansa 129 – runs counter to the aforesaid constitutional mandate.

BP 129, otherwise known as "The Judiciary Reorganization Act of 1980", as amended, inadvertently denies the Supreme Court the power to permanently reassign judges of Regional, Metropolitan, Municipal and Municipal Circuit Trial Courts to other stations on the same court level. For a judge to be transferred to a court of the same level in a neighboring town or city, a new nomination from the Judicial and Bar Council and a new appointment by the President shall have to be secured for such transfer to ensue, as if the judge is being appointed for the first time.

This process, however, is unique to the judicial branch of government. In the Executive, the Administrative Code of the Philippines and Presidential Decree No. 1 allow the reassignment of employees and Career Executive Service personnel, respectively, provided that such transfer shall not involve a reduction in rank, salary, or status.

Such tedious personnel management process in the Judiciary results to clogged dockets, as delayed lateral transfer of judges to new assignments contributes to prolonged vacancies in trial courts. As a stop-gap solution, said court vacancies are temporarily assigned with pairing and assisting judges who are doubly burdened as they also have to attend to other pressing cases in their own salas. Such is the case in Cebu alone, where four (4) branches of the Municipal Trial Courts in Cities branches remain vacant following the dismissal of presiding judges from service. An offshoot of said vacancies are 4,389 unresolved cases, prompting the IBP-Cebu City chapter to pass a resolution asking the President, the Supreme Court and the Judicial Bar and Council (JBC) to consider as urgent the filling up of the vacancies.

More importantly, this process further exposes our courts to political interference and pressure. As aptly observed by Justice Antonio Carpio of the Supreme Court: "[E]very time a judge makes a lateral transfer like this, he accumulates political debts, which weaken his independence."

It is hoped that with this remedial piece of legislation, the Supreme Court can finally exercise its constitutional mandate of administrative supervision over all its courts and personnel, which in turn can result to case decongestion and the delivery of speedy trial, and to a more independent judiciary.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
