AN ACT
TO REGULATE THE RATIONAL EXPLORATION, DEVELOPMENT AND UTILIZATION OF MINERAL RESOURCES, AND TO ENSURE THE EQUITABLE SHARING OF BENEFITS FOR THE STATE, INDIGENOUS PEOPLES AND LOCAL COMMUNITIES, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

Explanatory Note

It is our vision to make economic growth not only inclusive but also sustainable for all Filipinos through the judicious disposition, utilization, management, conservation, and rehabilitation of the country's natural resources. Through rational and respectful development practices, we can ensure that the country's precious resources will not only contribute to poverty alleviation but will remain to be equitably accessible to the present and future generations.

The Philippines is a highly mineralized country, with approximately 14 million hectares of land known to be potential sites for metallic and non-metallic mineral reserves. As promising a venture as it may seem to be, the country's mining industry remains beset with challenges.

The Philippine mining industry remains underutilized, as shown by low GDP contribution at only 0.7% in the first quarter of 2015. The government revenue share is only at around Php2 billion a year in revenues, or less than 1% of the country's Gross Domestic Product. The flawed provisions of Republic Act No. 7492, otherwise known as "the Philippine Mining Act of 1995," are said to be the culprit behind these limited investments and flawed mining policies, thus further stunting the local economy.

There are also other issues that have historically plagued the country's mining industry. Among these are the reported cases of militarization and human rights violations as well as nature-induced disasters in large-scale mining operations. Today's mining issues are intricately connected to the issue of development aggression, where businesses and their operations are being guaranteed protection by State actors, with mining companies forming no exception. On this matter, the prior administration directed the creation of special Civilian Armed Forces Geographical Units (CAFGUs) specifically to protect mining concerns in the name of anti-insurgency. This has affected even surrounding Lumad communities in utter disregard of their fundamental rights to autonomy and utilization of their ancestral domains, at times resulting in violence and killings. Indigenous communities and villages are caught in the crossfire.

If properly regulated and managed, the Philippine mining industry can be a promising sector for inclusive growth and true human development, particularly if our laws will breathe life and meaning to the right of communities and indigenous peoples to development and to participate in the development process. The bill thus seeks to provide the framework for the utilization and management of the country's mineral resources, which will address the needs of the domestic economy and uphold the rights of various stakeholders – from industry workers to indigenous peoples and local communities. It also seeks to increase the government share to ten percent (10%) from the gross revenues it earns from the development and utilization of mineral resources, which shall be set aside for the general fund of the government.

It is high time to reorient Philippine mining policy towards national interest, environmental protection, and social justice. Fair, just, and sustainable management of our national resources can be achieved through the establishment of a rational minerals management regime.

In view of the foregoing, speedy approval of this bill is eagerly sought.

18 Communities/Indigenous Peoples (ICCs/IPs) own and have the responsibility to manage the 19 mineral resources in their respective ancestral domains, free from external manipulation,
20 interference, force threat, intimidation, coercion and other analogous acts. The State shall 21 support indigenous cultural communities in developing capacities to effectively exercise their 22 right and responsibility.

24 SECTION 11. Mining shall be limited in scale in accordance with this Act.

31 the opening of new mines to maximize and recover the remaining minerals resources from 32 the rejects or wastes of previous mines and mining operations.

1           SECTION 14. The State shall prioritize the rehabilitation of the abandoned mines in
2 the country. The State shall ensure the fullest compliance of all government and corporate

7 and mining cooperatives to participate and invest in the mining industry on mutually-
8 beneficial grounds that will push forward the National Industrialization Program in both
9 small-scale and large-scale projects.

10
11           SECTION 16. Mineral resource extraction shall be allowed based on the Philippine 12 Government's National Industrial Plan. The sharing of profits from mining activities, 13 including the anticipated environmental and social costs on the affected local communities of 14 each mining project, should far outweigh ecological and social benefits and costs from other 15 land uses. The anticipated cost of environmental and social impacts on the affected local 16 communities, which shall at all times be prevented and/or mitigated through the allocation of 17 sufficient funds for this purpose. In mining projects with foreign participation, a just return of 18 investment scheme for the foreign entrants into the industry shall be prescribed by law.

19
20           SECTION 17. The State shall prioritize the development of mineral resources needed
21 for national development and the creation of domestic processing capacity for industrial
22 metals, the integration of agricultural modernization and other labor-intensive downstream
23 industries. Mine planning shall be conducted to meet this principle. The National Industrial
24 Plan shall support national development based on the principles of sustainable development
25 and modernization of its economic base. This framework will define minerals to be extracted,
26 volume to be extracted, and when to be extracted. This shall be matched with the approved
