AN ACT
MANDATING THE ANNUAL PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF ALL CONTINGENT
LIABILITIES INCURRED BY ALL NATIONAL GOVERNMENT AGENCIES, LOCAL GOVERNMENT UNITS, GOVERNMENT-OWNED OR -CONTROLLED
CORPORATIONS, GOVERNMENT FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND OTHER GOVERNMENT INSTRUMENTALITIES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Philippine Government is mandated by no less than the 1987 Constitution to recognize the role of the private sector in providing adequate social services, promoting full employment, raising the standard of living, and improving the quality of life for all Filipinos.

Encouraging the private sector to participate in the delivery of public services, however, is hampered by the country's market realities marked by stringent regulations, uncertain socio-economic and political environment, and market distortions caused by price control and subsidies.

To tap private sector capital and skills, the government was compelled to make public sector investments more profitable by providing incentives, including assuming investment risks. As such, the conferment of government guarantees on public sector investment and borrowings became one of the prominent features of Republic Act No. 6957 as amended, otherwise known as the Build-Operate-Transfer (BOT) Law.

The benefits of government guarantees, however, come at a price. Studies conducted by the University of the Philippines School of Economics¹ showed that government risk management practices severely understate the level of exposure and risk arising from unfettered provision of guarantees. Development Studies² and the Development Budget Coordinating Committee³ raised their concerns over the unexpected public sector obligations that could be brought about by government guarantees, especially on the delivery of public goods and services.

Senate Economic Planning Office underscored the importance of effective identification, management, and reporting of contingent liabilities and off-budget risks of GOCCs, since past fiscal crises in the Philippines were triggered by extra-budgetary activities⁴. Considering the potential of government guarantees to wreak havoc on public resources, the conferment and management of such guarantees require exacting deliberations and wide-ranging public disclosures.

The mechanisms to enable the public and the policymaker to make informed decisions on public debt, however, remained largely inadequate.

Commission on Audit⁵ has already recommended the disclosure of relevant information pertaining to the contingent liabilities including the fiscal risks associated with guarantees on Public-Private Partnership (PPP) projects and on issuances of government-owned or -controlled corporations (GOCCs) and government financial institutions (GFIs) in its Public Debt Management Audit for 2004 and 2009-2010. In 2015, the Commission reiterated this position when the Commission identified the non-disclosure of over one trillion pesos contingent liabilities arising from government guarantees on PPP projects and liabilities from GOCCs and GFIs⁶.

This bill requires the annual public disclosure of government's contingent liabilities at least a month prior to the submission of the President's annual budget to Congress. It will provide Members of Congress and other stakeholders with a better appreciation of the fiscal and monetary impact of the government's contingent liabilities on future government spending.

At the end of the day, prudent fiscal management warrants the establishment of a stronger legal and institutional framework in apprising the public about the obligations and risks involved in public-private partnership in public service delivery.

It is in this light that the swift approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
