- (b) Demography (population size, growth and distribution);
- (c) Food security, socio-economic and related development activities;

- (d) Energy security and self-sufficiency;
- (e) Existing and potential land use;
- (f) Environmental, natural resources, and other constraints;
- (g) Existing government policies on land allocation, utilization, management and disposition.

SEC. 14. Categories of Land Uses for Planning Purposes. – In determining and defining the NFPF, RFPFs/PPFPs and the CLUPs, land uses shall be grouped into four major functional uses as follows:

- (a) Protection Land Use – the adoption of which tends to protect, preserve and enhance critical ecosystems from any human encroachment, regenerate and rehabilitate degraded land and other physical resources, ensure safeguard against environmental hazards including those resulting from unregulated activities, and enhance and sustain the benefits derived from maintaining the integrity of the nation's land resources. Areas to be covered under this category are those under the national integrated Protected Areas Systems (NIPAS) as provided for by R.A. No. 7586 and those outside the NIPAS which require rehabilitation and protection as identified by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR), in coordination with concerned LGUs and National Government Agencies (NGAs), and in consultation with concerned stakeholders;
- (b) Production Land Use – the adoption of which aims to determine the most efficient, sustainable, and equitable manner of utilizing, developing and managing land for productive purposes. Areas included under this category are agricultural lands even though identified and delineated as protected under Section 33 hereof, coastal zones including those declared by DENR and other similar government agencies that are in environmentally critical conditions, production forest, mineral lands, energy resource lands, industrial development areas, and tourism development areas;
- (c) Settlements development- the adoption of which seeks to promote an orderly, equitable, and sustainable development of human settlements responsive to the needs of its inhabitants and the environment. Classification shall be made based on the predominant economic and socio-cultural activities, as urban or rural, and based on the topography and slope of land as upland, hillside, lowland, or coastal. Major uses under this category shall include: residential, including relocation and resettlement sites for socialized housing as provided for in R.A. No. 7279 (or the 'Urban Development and Housing Act of 1992' or 'UDHA') and socialized housing zones; commercial, industrial; institutional, (e.g., sites of government offices, health and education), utilities; tourism, recreational, including parks, urban forests, open or green space; waste disposal; and roads, rail transportation networks, and facilities;

- (d) Infrastructure development – which shall cover areas identified by the LGUs, the National Economic Development Authority (NEDA), and other concerned agencies as sites for priority infrastructure projects which shall include, among others: power plants/stations and major substations; indigenous energy resource exploration and development; irrigation and flood control sewerage and drainage facilities; water supply system and treatment plants' airports/ seaports/ fishports; major road, bridge, and railway trunklines; farm-to-market roads; agricultural research and development farms and/or stations; waste disposal facilities; disaster mitigation facilities; and market sites. Provided, That the determination of functional uses of lands within ancestral domains need not necessarily follow the land use categories provided for in this Act and separate land use categories for delineated ancestral domains may be formulated by the concerned ICCs/IPs themselves in accordance with their particular needs and traditional resource and management systems.

SEC. 15. Multiple land Uses. – Subject to the provisions of this Act, the LUPA shall encourage multiple land uses as long as they are complementary and not incompatible with each other.

SEC. 16. Categories of Water Uses for Planning Purposes. – For purposes of this Act, the categories of water uses for planning purposes shall be in accordance with existing laws. Notwithstanding such laws, the categories to be adopted must complement and support the foregoing categories for land use planning. Within six (6) months from the effectivity of this Act, after the conduct of public consultations, the National Water Resources Board (NWRB) and the LUPA shall jointly adopt and issue implementing guidelines, rules and regulations that will promote the integration of sound water resource utilization, allocation, management, and development with the requirements of sustainable land use planning.
