

FOURTEENTH CONGRESS OF THE
REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES
First Regular Session

SENATE

RECEIVED BY: Senate Bill No. 95

INTRODUCED BY HON. MANNY VILLAR

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Undeniably, the contribution of Filipino overseas workers in the country's thrust for economic recovery has proven to be both vital and indispensable. Since the 1970s, labor export had been regarded by the national government as a means to address the nation's twin problems of unemployment and chronic balance of payment deficits. In fact, not only have jobs in the country been made available to those who remained a part of the domestic labor force, but more importantly, the remittances of Filipino overseas workers have become the country's single biggest source of foreign exchange.

Hailed as modern day heroes, Filipino overseas workers have been considered as one of the major forces in the labor front today. Considering their number, which is estimated at close to 1.5 million, excluding workers who have acquired immigrant status in their host countries, they have greatly influenced government policies geared towards promoting and protecting their welfare and interests.

In the area of investment, the government has only the establishment of the Overseas Workers Investment Fund to offer for the overseas workers to invest their funds with.

This bill seeks to further enhance the investment potential of overseas workers while at the same time aims to address their various financial needs and concerns. It provides for the establishment of a banking institution for Filipino overseas workers, to be known as the Philippine Overseas Workers Bank, to augment their income-generation capabilities as investors thereof. Added to this, it enjoins the government to provide the necessary financial assistance that will tremendously sustain the validity of the proposed bank.

It is about time that the overseas workers be provided with a bank that they can call their own; effectively run and managed by people within their ranks, and which is expected to be operated for their greater good and benefit.

To help our overseas Filipino workers, the passage of this bill is urged.
