EXPLANATORY NOTE

The number of school facilities built has not met the yearly building requirements caused by increases in enrollment. As a result, the backlog of classroom has increased. This shortage in the number of public school buildings in our country has always been a perennial problem associated with the deteriorating quality of our education system.

Today, the national classroom-student ratio for elementary and secondary public schools is a staggering 1:65, due largely to the free education program, which has not been met by a corresponding increase in the number of classrooms. With only Php2.5 Billion allocated for school buildings in the 2003 GAA, the backlog of school rooms will increase to 30,100 classrooms by the end of 2000. To attain the ideal classroom-student ratio in the next five (5) years, a total of 129,000 new classrooms have to be constructed excluding those that have to be rehabilitated.

The bill seeks to create a comprehensive program which will address the problem of classroom shortage. A salient feature of this bill is the provision of build operate-transfer, build-lease-transfer, build-transfer, rehabilitate-operate-transfer, and other contractual arrangements that will allow the use of both government and private funds to finance the construction of needed school buildings, and the creation of an inter-agency committee to formulate and ensure the effective implementation of the program by the Department of Education (DepEd). The program also provide for the integration of all the necessary information for the effective monitoring and maintenance of existing school buildings. It is hoped that with the passage of this bill, class sizes will be reduced to a manageable level for a more conducive learning environment and thus result in the improvement in the quality of our education.

For the- above mentioned reasons, approval of this bill is earnestly sought.

RAMON BONG REVILLA, JR.
