Senate Bill No. 244

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The institutionalization of the use of "emergency lines" in other parts of the world has greatly prevented unauthorized persons from loitering around an area which are undergoing operations by the Police, Fire, Medical and Rescue organizations. It has facilitated smooth operation within and around the cordoned area through radial control and management of people and space.

The purpose of the emergency line is to cordon off an area where Police, Fire, Medical and Rescue organizations are operating.

In the case of the Police, the use of this mechanism serves to preserve the crime scene. Police officers within the area are required to clearly display their police badges should they be officers on duty, prevent other crimes that may occur in the area, protect bystanders and limit access by unauthorized personnel such as, but not limited to, bystanders, officers not on duty, newspaper reporters and photographers.

For the Fire Department, the use thereof will give ample freedom of movement to ensure the best possible means of controlling or extinguishing fire; prevent criminals from carting away fire equipment; and prevent looting and loitering. But more than these, the line may serve as indicator of a specific area where injured persons may be placed for easy access by medical personnel.

For Medical and Rescue Organizations, the use of the line would make ensure that the victim has enough room to breath and for the medics to stabilize the victim's condition through first aid application without undue interference and disruption. The line would also help prevent the loss of the victim's personal belongings and valuable rescue equipment.

In these times, there is an urgent need to effectively manage emergency situations in the country. Our long response times during earthquakes, fires, floods, collapse of buildings and other calamities are but manifestations of our ill-prepared emergency response management. With this simple line, interference would be lessened and thereby enhance rescue and emergency operations among concerned agencies.

Passage of this measure is urgently requested.

MANNY VILLAR
