Senate Bill No. 646

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The position of provincial or city or municipal social welfare and development officer is a very crucial one. He/she not only formulates measures for the approval of the local sanggunian, but he/she also provides technical assistance and support to either the governor or the mayor in carrying out various measures to ensure the delivery of basic services and provisions of adequate facilities relative to social welfare and development services as provided for in the Local Government Code of 1991.

As officer-in-charge of the office on social welfare and development services, he/she develops and implements, upon approval by the governor or mayor, plans and strategies pertaining to social welfare programs and projects. He/she not only identifies the basic needs of the needy, the disadvantaged and the impoverished and develops and implements appropriate measures to alleviate their problems, but he/she also provides relief and appropriate crisis intervention for victims of abuse and exploitation by being in the frontline of service delivery, particularly those of which have to do with immediate relief and assistance during the aftermath of natural and man-made disasters and calamities.

Thus, there is an urgent need to professionalize the delivery of various basic social services by making the qualifications of these social welfare and development officers equivalent and comparable with their counterparts in the local government units. Setting certain parameters as to who would qualify as social welfare and development officers and making mandatory their appointment in municipal governments are steps in the right direction. Hence, the early passage of this bill is earnest sought.
