Senate Bill No. 695

INTRODUCED BY SEN. JINGGOY EJERCITO ESTRADA

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The recent malaria and dengue outbreak, which has claimed scores of lives, should alert the government to critically come up with a program that shall search for a panacea not only to this disease, but also other diseases, with no known vaccines or cure.

While vaccines for other virus-based and bacteria-based diseases are readily available, courtesy of researches conducted by medical facilities abroad, it is unfortunate that no similar researches have so far been undertaken with respect to diseases which are peculiar in the region, if not in our country.

As in the case of small pox, which has almost been eradicated through the development of a vaccine, dengue and other local diseases could possibly be eliminated through some appropriate vaccines which can be developed, harnessed and utilized, if only concerned government agencies, and other private and public institutions shall put their acts together, pool their resources and conscientiously work towards finding said cures.

The purpose of this measure is to establish a medical research facility to search for vaccines for dengue, malaria, yellow fever and other diseases. Through this facility, academic experts and scientists, and other individuals, both from the government and private institutions can work together to develop appropriate vaccines.

This may be a tall order, certainly. Yet, with enough funding, coupled with dedication of people who care, such a facility may be an answer to disease-related problems confronting our communities.

Hence, immediate enactment of this bill is earnestly sought.
