

FOURTEENTH CONGRESS OF THE
REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES
First Regular Session

SENATE

S. B. No. 883

Introduced by SENATOR EDGARDO J. ANGARA

EXPLANATORY NOTE

It is estimated that as much as five million Filipinos in the rural sector are either unemployed or underemployed. Although the employment in the rural sector is largely seasonal, much of the unemployment and underemployment can be attributed to underutilization of agricultural lands throughout the country.

With the Rural Employment Generation Act of 2007, one million hectares of idle and underutilized lands will be converted into modern productive agricultural resources. In the process, it is expected that one million rural jobs will be created, with annual farm incomes of at least Twenty Five Thousand Pesos per hectare being generated.

Corn, cassava and high value commercial crops shall be planted throughout the country under this Act, with the Department of Agriculture serving as lead agency. Tie-ups between the private sector and government will be necessary, including collaborations between agribusiness companies and farmer-beneficiaries.

As catalyst, the Program will generate rural employment valued at 10.354 Billion Pesos and private sector investments of 10.605 Billion Pesos. More importantly, with an improvement in our country's rural employment level, it is anticipated that rural poverty will drastically be reduced.

For the above-mentioned reasons, approval of this bill is earnestly urged.
