S. B. No. 890

Introduced by SENATOR EDGARDO J. ANGARA

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Under the 1987 Constitution, the State substantially recognizes the Filipino family as the foundation of the nation. Accordingly, it shall strengthen its solidarity and actively promote its total development. As such, the government is mandated by law to undertake measures to preserve the unity of family, setting aside if it must technicalities and certain norms of conduct.

The Family Code of the Philippines provides for the requisites of legitimation of children born out of wedlock and whose parent are not otherwise disqualified by law to marry each other at the time of the child's conception. In other words, legitimation is defined as a remedy by means of which those who in fact were born out of wedlock and should, therefore, be considered illegitimate, are by fiction, subsequently considered legitimate, it being supposed that they were born when their parents already validly married.

Nowadays, the incidents of children born out of wedlock to parents who are disqualified under the law to marry each other because of the issue of minority are almost an every day occurrence. Certainly, the sins of the parents must not be attributed to the children.

In the light of the foregoing that the amendment of a proviso of the Family Code is earnestly sought in order to uphold the rights of children as well as their human dignity.
