S. No. 2307

RECEIVED BY:

INTRODUCED BY HON. MANNY VILLAR

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The value of human rights must be inculcated in our youth.

Various sectors in society, the Church included, have acknowledged the urgent need for human rights to be discussed with the young citizens of our country.

The subject of Human Rights however is being taught by Philippine schools only on a voluntary basis.

Article XIV, Section 3(1 & 2) of the 1987 Constitution states:

"(1) All educational institutions shall include the study of the Constitution as part of the curricula."

"(2) They shall inculcate patriotism, foster love of humanity, respect for human rights, appreciation of the role of national heroes in the historical development of the country, teach the rights and duties of citizenship, strengthen ethical and spiritual values, develop moral character and personal discipline, encourage critical and creative thinking, broaden scientific and technological knowledge, and promote efficiency."

Moreover, the Constitution empowers and mandates the Commission on Human Rights as provided in Article XIII, Section 18 (5) to:

"(5) Establish a continuing program of research, education, and information to enhance respect for the primacy of human rights."

In its Resolution 49/184 dated December 23, 1994, the United Nations General Assembly proclaimed the ten-year period beginning January 1, 1995 as the United Nations Decade for Human Rights Education.

To implement the aforesaid constitutional provisions more effectively, and in observance of the U.N. Decade for Human Rights Education, this bill is being filed to make the teaching of human rights a mandatory part of the curriculum of all educational institutions.

Approval of this bill is earnestly requested.
