S NO. 2236

Introduced by Senator Antonio "Sonny" F. Trillanes IV

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Debt may be defined as the current use of future revenue. Viewed from this perspective every government must be more prudent and discerning in committing future revenues to pay for its current expenditures.

National Government debt has more than doubled from P1.33 trillion in 1996 to P2.88 trillion in 2001. Conservatively, NG debt could reach P3.20 trillion by 2003. (An Analysis of the President's Budget for FY2003, CPBO, House of Representatives, p. 19)

Moreover, the escalating debt service payments in the General Appropriations Act causes alarm for it has effectively crowded out expenditures for social services and physical infrastructures.

Debt service payments in absolute amount and as a percentage of the total budget has increased dramatically starting in 1998 after steadily declining from 1992 to 1997. From P78.0 billion or 15.9% of expenditures in 1997, interest payments increased to P175 billion or 24.6% in 2001. For 2003, an amount of P223.2 billion or 28.5% is allocated for interest expense. (An Analysis of the President's Budget for FY 2003, CPBO, House of Representatives, p.20)

Because of mandatory interest payments, there is little room for expenditures in the national budget for urgent social and physical infrastructures needed to stimulate the economy.

There is therefore urgent need for the development of a formal debt policy to establish a threshold level for public debt. The setting and imposition of a debt cap ensures that debt service payments continue to be affordable within the context of budget priorities.

In view of the foregoing, approval of this bill is strongly recommended.
