REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES)

SENATE

S. NO. 292

RECEIVED

Introduced by Senator Antonio "Sonny" F. Trillanes IV

Explanatory Note

The development of the duck industry in the country is synonymous to improvements in livelihood and general well-being of the people in rural areas. Not only will it improve the lot of a significant number of farmers in the sector but will also enhance essentially the economy of agricultural communities in the countryside.

Pursuant to this noble intention, this bill seeks to establish the Philippine Center for Duck Research and Development (PCDRD) that will undertake focused policies, programs, and projects on duck breeding, production, and marketing systems. The PCDRD also intends to conduct training and capacity-building for duck farmers, as well as provide other forms of support and technical assistance to beneficiaries.

Moreover, the thrust of this bill is in consonance with the expressed policies of the State to develop and promote a self-reliant national economy, encourage and support private enterprise so as to generate employment and livelihood opportunities especially for the poor and the marginalized. Further, it supports another priority course of action of the State to develop the country's human resource through training and education particularly in science and technology.

Notably, the creation of a center for duck research and development in the Philippines hopes to alleviate living conditions in local communities and at the same time contribute to the growth of the national economy.

In view of the foregoing, the passage of this bill is thus earnestly sought.
