EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Civil Code, Article 1991, provides:

"Article 1991 - The depositor's heir, who in good faith, may have sold the thing, which he or she did not know was deposited, shall only be bound to return the price he may have received or to assign his right of action against the buyer in case the price has not been paid by him."

The law incorrectly uses the term "depositor's". It was intended to apply where the depository dies and the thing deposited is left with his or her heir who sells it in good faith. It limits the heir's liability to the depositor.

To give Article 1991 its desired effect, "depositor's" must be replaced with "depositary's".

In view of the foregoing, early passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
